

JOAN PEREX

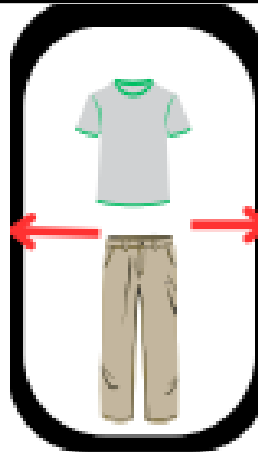

Joan is trying to get her daughter ready for school

When she is trying to look for clothes for her daughter, she finds that she forgot to do laundry, so her options are limited

As she is sifting through her daughters closet, she remembers that she has Fashion Choice!
She goes to her daughters profile and sifts
through the clothes that she knows aren't dirty to find the perfect outfit for her daughter

She ends up finding the perfect outfit that her daughter loves as well!

RICKY METZGER

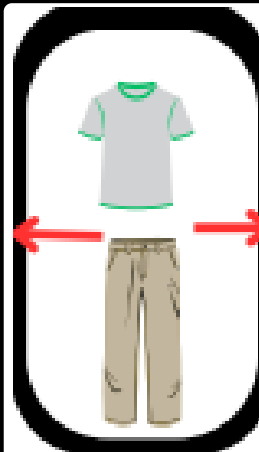

Ricky has already worn all of his cute outfits for the week and doesn't want to repeat them!

He is sifting through his closet to no avail he cannot figure out a cute fit for the life of him

He started looking towards his fashion website for inspiration, but finds the outfits he's already worn

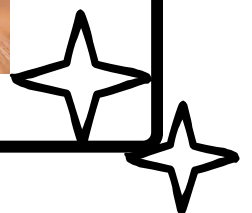

He remembers that he has Fashion Choice and can sift through the clothes he already has and has forgotten about to make the perfect outfit!

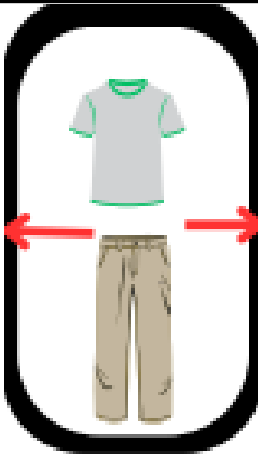

He puts on the outfit that the random choice gave him, and he feels like he is one of his models, and it even gives him inspiration on a new fashion design!

He spends the rest of the day developing this design and finds that his consumers love it!!

SEAN PERKINS

Sean wakes up in the morning to realize that he is going to be late for his meeting! He has to look presentable to be able to seal the deal with this company but has no time to look for an outfit!

He realizes that he has Fashion Choice to help him make the decision to be successful in this interview while not being late

He walks into the meeting on time and the men in there immediately compliment him on his style and clothing choice for the meeting, and he ends up sealing the deal

